SCOTT SCRIVEN RECEIVES 2009 TURPAC AWARD FROM THE NATIONAL TURKEY FEDERATION

McLean, VA – Scott Scriven, Vice Chairman of the Food Processing Suppliers Association and President of Weber, Inc. was recognized at the National Turkey Federation's 2010 Annual Convention in San Antonio, TX for his 2009 contribution to TURPAC.

TURPAC, the National Turkey Federation's political action committee, has played an important part over the last decade in electing Congressmen who understand the challenges that poultry businesses face in the global economy. TURPAC's leadership in the electoral process plays a key role in affecting policy on issues that affect animal agriculture.

"I'm pleased to support NTF and their important work in the poultry industry and I'm honored to receive this award", said Mr. Scriven.

Mr. Scriven begins his term as Chairman of the Food Processing Suppliers Association on March 11th at the FPSA Annual Business meeting.
